Liability limited by a scheme approved under Professional Standards Legislation

Douglas has been involved in a diverse range of litigation matters in both Federal and State courts and tribunals and has provided complex advice for public and private sector clients.

Commissions of inquiry

In 2022, Douglas was appointed as Counsel Assisting in the Royal Commission into the Robodebt Scheme. He appeared regularly in hearings of the Commission (led and unled) and was involved in drafting the Commission's final report published in July 2023.

Administrative and public law

Douglas has an extensive experience in administrative and public law. He regularly appears in State and Federal courts (both led and unled) in judicial review applications; acting on behalf of government agencies and applicants. Douglas also appears in merits review proceedings, including in migration review cases in the Administrative Appeals Tribunal.

Douglas frequently acts on behalf of the Commonwealth in Federal Court and Federal Circuit Court judicial review applications, including applications for review of cancellation decisions made under ss 501 and 501CA of the Migration Act 1958 (Cth) and the refusal of visa applications under s 65 of that Act.

Native title

Douglas has expertise in native title. He has acted for both applicants and the State of Queensland in native title determination claims; appearing in both substantive and interlocutory proceedings before the Federal Court. Additionally, he has provided complex advice to both government agencies and native title applicants concerning the conduct of native title claims. Proceedings in which Douglas has acted include, but are not limited to, the Cape York United #1 determination application (QUD673/2014); the Githabul People (Waringh Waringh) determination application (QUD87/2021), the Wulli Wulli People #3 determination application (QUD6006/2000), and the Kabi Kabi First Nation Traditional Owners Native Title Claim Group determination application (QUD20/2019).

Additionally, Douglas has expertise in the compensation regime established under Division 5, Part 2 of the Native Title Act 1993 (Cth) and has acted on behalf of native title holding groups in compensation claims. He has also advised on matters concerning harm to cultural heritage.

Employment

Douglas has a background in employment law; having practised as a solicitor at Crown Law in the Workplace Law Team. As Counsel, Douglas has acted in, and advised on, an array of industrial matters including unfair dismissal matters, discrimination claims and claims for unpaid wages. Douglas appeared unled for an appellant local government in the Queensland Industrial Court; successfully appealing a decision of the Queensland Industrial Relations Commission concerning the interpretation of the Queensland Local Government Industry (Stream A) Award – State 2017 (see Paroo Shire Council v Mason [2024] ICQ 11).

Regulatory

Douglas specialises in regulatory matters. He has a particular focus in health profession regulation; appearing for National Boards in review and disciplinary proceedings under the Health Practitioner Regulation National Law. Douglas has also appeared before sporting tribunals in discipline matters.

Commercial

Douglas regularly advises on and appears in commercial disputes. He has been engaged in matters involving contract, directors' duties, negligence and other actions. Douglas has particular expertise in vicarious liability and pure economic loss in tort. In 2025, the University of Queensland Law Journal published an article by Douglas about vicarious liability in the context of institutional abuse and the High Court decision in Bird v DP (2024) 98 ALJR 1349 (see 'Employment or Nothing: An Analysis of Bird v DP and the Australian Approach to Vicarious Liability in Cases of Institutional Abuse', (2025) Vol 44(1) University of Queensland Law Journal, 183).
